PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Sixty five years ago, one of my classmates in a Latin class, used the following expression in translating a phrase in Caesar's Gallic Wars: "Due to an unfortunate combination of unforeseen contingencies---". With my lack of ability to remember things that are important, my remembrance of that phrase is not understandable. However, I can think of no better way of describing why we failed to publish the last two issues of Family History Capers. At this time we can only offer our apologies for the absence of those issues and strive to write up the material that might have been in them. Our Editor, Judy Punnett, who has done such excellent work in our previous printings is ill and a few less experienced members will temporarily attempt to take her place until she is able to reassume the responsibilities.

We have several other changes in our organization. In April 1980, President Phyllis Jones decided that she should resign in order to devote more time to complete the work of moving to Detroit where her husband had taken a position. Phyllis contributed a tremendous amount of work for our Society and we have missed her. One of our newer members was elected secretary but in a short time she resigned because of a change in her employment. Lydia Muncy, a founder and past President took over temporarily until Karen Wheaton was elected. Karen was happy to take the position but she also was very active in her church activities and shortly told us that her church responsibilities would interfere with her attendance at our meetings. At the present time Erma Joslyn, wife of our Vice President has taken over as Recording Secretary. At our election last spring we also elected an Assistant Treasurer, Thada Liskow, to work with our very efficient Treasurer, Flora Burt, and to be in charge of the Membership Committee. Nancy Krohn was made Corresponding Secretary and given charge of sales.

Our by-laws now call for election of officers to be made in May. We need more persons willing to serve the Society while the Society is serving them with genealogical books, lectures, classes and other services. We are sure that we have many such persons but they are too bashful to tell us about their willingness to help! How about volunteering?

Membership cards are now available to be given out when dues are paid. These cards have a condensation of the Genealogist's Code printed on the back. We hope these cards may assist members to get help in libraries, court houses and other sources of genealogical material. Cards are also available now to acknowledge the appreciation of our Society for contributions of books and other materials. Since gifts to the Society are tax exempt, these cards can be filed for use when income tax reports are made out. Kits are being prepared again for new members to learn how to get started in their researches.

THE 1894 WASHTENAW COUNTY CENSUS

By Alloa Anderson

Census records are one of the basic sources of information for genealogists because they show exactly where and when a particular person was living. Just as the recent Federal census attempted to count every person's name and place of residence on a particular day, so have previous Federal censuses attempted to list by civil district, the the names of all persons living there at that time.

In addition to the Federal censuses taken on the decennial years, many states have ordered their own name-listing for the purposes of taxation or legislative apportionment at mid-decennium. Michigan had to be "special", so they take the count on the fourth year. Not all States order these special censuses.

Through the years, many of these lists have been damaged, burned in Court House fires, or have vanished into thin air. The need for them was constant, so various substitutes have been compiled. (Tithing records of churches, taxes for county or parish maintainence, taxes on sales of produce, e.g., tobacco, petitions for road construction, and any other document containing names of people who lived in a certain place at a certain time.) The most recent loss was the burning in Washington, D.C., of the complete 1890 census, with the exception of a few pension applications of Civil War veterans or their widows.

As genealogical need for the use of these documents has increased, the providing of substitutes for the lost ones has become a challenge to some researchers and a labor of love for others.

The Washtenaw County census of 1894 is housed at the Bentley Library, so four members of the Genealogical Society who were also DAR's and the DAR Chairman of Genealogical Records have copied those names, one to a card, for all 44,500 of them and alphabetized even to the last letter of the Christian name.

Never has one's skill in penmanship been a criteria for holding public office, and it certainly was not true in 1894. Not only was "Henery" the common spelling for that name, but "Ema" spelled "Emma", "Gerg" was "George" when the writing could be deciphered. There were mountainous pages of impossible markings, followed by calm, clear fields of beautiful penmanship only to be stopped abruptly by more mountains of almost illegible scratchings. The use of the 1890 County Directory was the only means available to help in the solution of some of the problems.

We are now asking for help in typing the transfer of these names to columns on pages ready for photocopying.

Single copies will be given to the DAR Library in Washington, D.C., the Burton Library, the Michigan Historical Collections at the Bentley Library, the State Library at Lansing and our own Society Library.

It may be possible to make arrangements for publication, from which our Society could reap a profit.

Part B

In the first part of the article I talked about the resources you would find in the open (public) areas of the HHGL. Now it is time to venture into that vast unknown called "the stacks". Actually there are two sets of stacks--- one in the old (North) building and one in the new(South) building. The one in the South Building is very straight forward; eight levels of stacks nicely numbered one through eight and pretty much the same layout on each level. The North Building stacks are a little more complicated because the numbering starts with sub-1, goes up to 1, then 1-A, 2, 2A etc. Any explanation defies my directional skills--you will have to go exploring armed with the knowledge that there are exits and maps and people who will help you get back to where you want to be!

VI. STACKS IN THE NORTH BUILDING

A. 2E. To enter level 2E of the North Building stacks, go into the Public Catalog room and look for the sign directing you to the East-West Central Stacks. Go through that door and you will be in 2E. "Z" call numbers are shelved on 2E and some useful items I have discovered there are as follows:

Z 7845	Library catalogs of religion collections (and religious history). For example, Z 7845 F 8 H39 is the Haverford College Library Quaker Collection
Z 5313 U5 A52	American Genealogical and Biographical Index (now through volume 109). They do not have the old edition, so until the complete set comes in there will be only part of the alphabet covered.
Z 881 N74 A48	Newberry Library of Chicago. Genealogical Index

B 4A. To get to level 4A of the North Building either take the elevator in 2E up to 4A or go back out to the Public Catalog and go to the elevator lobby (tiled area). In that tiled lobby are three elevators, but only one will go to any North Building stacks: that is the one closest to the Public Catalog. When you get to 4 A go out the back door. Now you may be wondering why are you on 4A? "BX" call numbers are shelved on 4A and "BX" call numbers cover religion--- and the history of a religion. Much of this is useful for background only, but often you will find membership lists, biographies of early leaders and members, and other such useful information. If your ancestor was a leader or minister in a church- very possible when you consider the amount of religious activity that went on in the 18th and 19th centuries--- you may find a biographical sketch of sizeable proportion. This is especially true for the histories that cover a state or local area. Some examples of books that might be useful are as follows:

BX 7635 AL F9	Quaker History (current issues in Serials Room)
BX 76-1 F9	Friends Historical Society. Journal

BX 8901 P933 Presbyterian Historical Society. Journals
BX 6394 W4 R192 (storage). Randoph, Corliss F. A History of the 7th Day Baptists in Virginia. . including... Pennsylvania and New Jersey
BX 6201 A3 Baptist History and Heritage
BX 6248 I6 S8 Indiana Baptist History 1798-1908

VII. STACKS IN THE SOUTH BUILDING

A.4 South To get to level 4S go back to the Public Catalog. There are ways to get back and forth between the two building without going to level 2, but until you are more familiar with the building it would be wisest to start from familiar turf. On 4South are the "CS" call numbers and the "CS" call numbers are used for what we think of as "strictly" genealogical material. It is a small collection because the HHGL does not collect Genealogy as a subject, but you might be surprised at the amount of valuable material that is available here. There are some basic books on Genealogical research, including the AGS two volume set Genealogical Research Methods and Resources, which I think is an excellent work on basic research.(call# CS 16 A52.) Other items of interest in this collection include Family Trails (CS 42 F22), Magazine of American Genealogy (CS 42 M2), National Genealogical Society Quarterly (CS 42N27), American Ancestry(CS 43 A52), Hinshaw Encyclopedia of American Quaker Genealogy vol.1-7 (CS 49 H66) and Hardy Colonial Families of the Southern States of America (CS 61 H27 1968). These are only a few of the titles in this collection, but it gives you an idea of the kinds of things you might expect to find---very basic, but useful. In addition there are several family genealogies. An example of some of the names covered is as follows: Amory, Arndt, Astor, Balch, Beekman, Boyd, Carpenter, Chandler, Child, Coker, Doster, Dawson, Dana, Eliot, Field, Fountaine, Hollingsworth, Gentry, Gardner, Hooker, Horton, Isham, Jaudon, Joy, Kellogg, Kelly, Lloyd, Livingston, Lowell, McNair, Mellon, Muhlenberg, Otis, Parke, Peabody, Pearson, Randolph, Scholle, Sprague, Strassberger, Strong, Tyler, Underhill, Ward, Wellman, Whaley, Whitney and Witter. This does not represent all the family genealogies--it is maybe ten per cent of what is there. The family genealogies are under the CS 71 call numbers. Following the family genealogies is the genealogy material for other countries. I have not done too much with this, but a quick glance gave me the impression there is a good basic collection for the British countries and some material for several other countries.

In the next issue I will talk about Level 5 South, "E" and "F" call numbers--American History and History of the Americas."E" call numbers are for general U.S. History and "F" call numbers are for history arranged by geographic areas. I will include a selected list of some books from different states which I have found useful.

LIBRARY REPORT

The GSWC maintains a small genealogical library within the Washtenaw Community College library. This is a non circulating collection kept in a room which the reference librarian will unlock for you. Please sign in each time you come!

WCC is located at 4800 East Huron River Drive, Ann Arbor, Michigan. During the semester, the library hours are extended. Best to inquire about the hours during semester breaks.

The library has grown to its present size mostly through gifts from members and non-members, which we gratefully receive. Acquisitions selected by a GSWC committee are from monies set aside from the sale of the two books by Anderson and Bender, and also certain other donor restricted funds.

The following is a partial listing of some of the more recent additions to our genealogical library.

THE WORLD CONFERENCE ON RECORDS, AUGUST 12-15, 1980

by Carole Callard

The second World Conference on Records was held in Salt Lake City, Utah. The theme of the conference was "Preserving Our Heritage". Preregistration for the conference began approximately one year prior to the proceedings, so by August every detail was preresolved. Participants were advised to pick their conference packets, containing the final schedule of the conference.

The opening ceremonies were very moving and impressive. The auditorium of the huge Salt Palace was filled to capacity with approximately ten thousand persons seeking to preserve one's family history. The lights were dimmed and scenes of the world's families were shown on a movie screen. The inspiring Morman Tabernacle Choir sang a piece commissioned for this conference about families and other popular songs, i.e. "Shenendoah", "Dixie" and "This is My Country". These moments set the mood for the following days of meetings.

Ezra Taft Benson, former head of the Department of Agriculture, gave an invocation and the Governor of Utah, Scott Matheson, welcomed us to Utah. Ted Wilson, the Mayor of Salt Lake City welcomed us to the City. It was a pleasure to know that these leaders think the task of preserving one's family history important enough to come and speak to the participants.

The President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Spencer W. Kimball, with a hushed, but authoritative voice, welcomed the participants from each state of the union and from thirty nations of the world. He made the announcement that a new genealogical library and a new church history museum would be built within the next year. He noted that it was reassuring to see so many persons whose minds and thoughts are on one's ancestors. Because, he said, "we are connected with the past, and the future of our world would be a better one, if we could learn from the past." He told us that he had filled seventy-eight journals of his thoughts and activities, and he prayed that we would have the commitment to follow through on what we learn in the next few days.

Although not an official part of the conference, the most important part of the conference to me was the Genealogical Library. We arrived in Salt Lake City on July 31, 1980 and used the library daily from dawn until dusk. The library was extremely well organized and the staff very helpful. We were impressed with the arrangement of the materials. They were arranged in the most convenient way so that patrons could help themselves as much as possible. Patrons were encouraged to get and put back their own microfilms and when finished with a volume to place it on the red shelves for reshelving. Usually the volumes were back in the proper places within one-half hour. The library in preparing for the family history searchers received fifty-five new microfilm readers, moved the catalog concerning British materials from the first to third floor with the British collection, offered a slide show orientation to the library collection, the U.S./Canada section and the granite mountain vault in Little Cottonwood Canyon.

The Family History Forum speakers really inspired each participant to go home and start writing and collecting family history. George Durrant, with a marvelous sense of humor, said that even our simple existence can be precious to our descendants. He reminded us to "look to the sky" don't leave out the heartaches of your life, but relate the glories and wonders, too.

Frank Smith told us to look up our ancestor's period in history and literature to fill-in his/her life. We sould comment on the events of history, and quote favorite pieces of literature in our family histories. He said, "Because of books and libraries we are able to feed, clothe, and tell about our ancestor's occupation." The tales about his early days in England, with such beautiful, visual phrasing were a pleasure to listen and think about.

Elaine Cannon spoke particularly about keeping a journal and writing our own histories. She gave many reasons why we sould start now and not put it off any longer. She said, "writing down our family history gives us direction, and perhaps influences our choices, and we can relive the beautiful moments by rereading our efforts whenever we choose."

The subject speakers were of the highest caliber, and one might be seeing a sho's sho in the field of genealogy, i.e. James Walker, Carol Willsey Bell, Russell Bidlack, James B. Bell, Ben V. Bloxham, Val D. Greenwood, Milton Rubincam, Kenn and Harriet Stryker-Rodda, Maurice Stirewalt, and Wilbur Helmbold. The lectures were well-prepared, interesting and informative.

Alex Haley was one of the highlights of the meeting. He related his experiences in writing his best selling book, Roots. One of my favorite moments was listening to him tell of his feelings when looking at the U.S. Census on microfilm and seeing his own relatives listed in official U.S. government documents. I had similar feelings when looking at the recently released 1900 census and seeing my favorite grandfather, who died in 1976, age 86 years, listed as age 10.

Mr. Haley mentioned that he would never know as much about genealogy as his friend, James Walker, of the National Archives. Later in a seminar on U. S. Military Records, I found Mr. Walker to be an excellent speaker, very concise and intelligent. The facts about U.S Military Records and black genealogy gleaned from the records, surged from his mouth.

Carol Willsey Bell spoke on little used U.S Sources. She explained sources that even experienced genealogists would not consider thinking of searching. Some listed were: records of indenture, including the newspaper ads for runaways from indenture, (these supply physical descriptions,) poor house records, county home records, school records for the deaf and blind, penitentiary or correctional institution records, Board of Education records, class registers, historical society collections and manuscript collections. She also announced the publication of an Index to Ohio Wills (about 1000,000 wills) in 1981.

Many of the other seminars we attended were on the records of the British Isles. Mr. Donald Steel speaking on Scotland's genealogical records explained many new terms. The scottish form of property conveyance are the records of sasines. These give the initial pedigrees of land-owners in Scotland. The Scottish Record Office has a published index to these records to 1800. They have a Register of Deeds Index to 1694.

The exhibits prepared for the conference were fantastic. There were three hundred to view, learn from, and some to purchase and take home. There were commercial exhibits consisting of computer technology, books, forms and oral history cassettes. And, private exhibits of quilts, needlepoint, wedding dresses, and personal displays of genealogical records.

The End

WASHTENAW COUNTY PIONEER FILE

This card catalog file, a gift of the Washtenaw County Historical Society, was begun by Mr. William T. Groves and added to by Mrs. A.S. Hazzard in 1944. We are printing a series from each letter of the alphabet, intending to repeat in this manner until the entire file has been printed.

The first two printings may be found in Volumeiii, numbers 3 and 4.

Additional information or corrections are welcomed by the society. Names of pioneers not already in this file may be added. Please include the source of your information as well as your own name and address.

THE NEWS STAND

The News Stand will be a column devoted too news from other societies, notices of meetings and of recent publications, etc. We especially invite our readers to contribute news, including personal discoveries, research adventures and special resources found , to this column. Please send your news to:
Gen. Soc. of Washtenaw Co., Inc.,
P.O.Box 7155, Ann Arbor, MI., 48107

Washtenaw County Historical Society: The February meeting, open to the public, will feature speakers discussing techniques for copying old photographs. In addition a photocopying session will be held(for members only) to copy old photoswhich have to do with people or places in Washtenaw County. These copies will be kept with the historical society materials at Bentley for future use. (Membership may be obtained at the door or by calling Ethelyn Morton at 662-2634.) The March meeting will feature "Farming in America". Meetings are held on the 4th Thursday at the Salvation Army Building, corner of Arbana and West Huron, Ann Arbor.

Ypsilanti Historical Society has announced the following winter and spring programs: Feb. 8, 2-4 p.m at the Museum-"Valentines", a workshop for children, open to the public, featuring old fashioned valentines.
Mar. 15, 3-5 p.m. at the Museum-Dr. John Harriman from Indiana Historical Society will be the speaker.
April 12, 3-5 p.m. at the Ladies Literary Club - Mr. Peter Fletcher of Ypsilanti will speak on "An Assortment of Ancestors".
May 17- a slide presentation of the August 1980 Heritage Festival.

Spring Seminars in Michigan: Saginaw Gen. Soc.: Annual Seminar, April 25, 1981
West. Mich. Gen. Soc.: May 2, 1981,"Immigrations, Passenger Lists and Naturalization Records"
New England Historic Genealogical Society: April 30, 1981 in Ann Arbor. Registration $20.00 for visitors.Dr. Martin Bell, speaker

Gen. Soc. of Monroe Co.: Has 6,000 research sheets of data on 2600 surnames of German Settlers of Monroe Co. prior to 1880. These have been produced from sources available in the county. No plans for publishing at the present, although the name list has appeared in the Mich. Gen. Council Newsletter, April 1980

Fort Wayne Library, Fort Wayne, IN.: Open again for business following the move to their new quarters. Phone 1-219-424-7241.

Western Michigan Gen. Soc.: Readers are invited to submit queries for publication in Michigana. These must be typewritten or written in a legible hand on a large sheet of paper and use standard abbreviations and format.

From Trudy Potter, GSWC: The recently formed Gen.Soc. of Randolph Co., IN. has some fresh ideas: they have placed at the Courthouse lists of research materials available in local libraries as well as their card file of surnames being researched by members and visitors to the county. Now that's helpful! (President: Monisa Wisener, Rte 3, Winchester, IN. 47394)

From Ralph Muncy, GSWC: The Thomas Minor Society, organized in Sept. 1979 at Chew Magna, Somerset, England, will hold a family meeting Sept. 14-18, 1981 in Stonington, Ct. Details of this gathering may be had from W.A.Minor, 4051 Winston Rd., Hoffman Estates, Ill., 60195. (Mrs. Lydia Muncy, GSWC, is the Regional Director of this society.) Information is sought for the revision of The Lions's Whelps (a Minor genealogy) by John A. Miner, East Shore Rd., Travett, ME., 04571.

From Bob Anderson, GSWC: The Lyons Township Gen. Soc. (Oakland Co., MI.) has prepared an index to the township birth and death records from about 1900 to 1950 and is preparing to publish these. The society meets in the Lyons Twp. Library (27025 Milford Rd., Lyons Twp. MI.) on the 2nd. Wednesday at 7:30. This library holds readings of all of the township cemeteries, most of them read about 1924 by the DAR but a few reread since then. The clerk of the township, 57100 Pontiac Trail, New Hudson, MI., states that she has a good collection of township records including tax and assessment, all alphabetized.

Cemetery Committee, GSWC: The ten persons who participated in reading the Oakhill Cemetery, Saline Twp., on July 27, 1980, did a super job and we wish to thank them. "A Guide to Cemetery Reading and Transcribing" was prepared by the committee and is available in our library. A meeting will be called soon to decide which cemetery will be read this coming July. Anyone wishing to serve on the committee or help with the readings, please contact me...(signed) Karen Walker, chairman.

Education Committee, GSWC: Last year four educational classes were held prior to the regular society program meetings. This year, 1980-81, the class presentations are in greater depth. Suggestions for topics for a future series are welcomed. Several study groups are presently organized , focusing on a special geographic area of interest. Members may join a group at any time. These groups are informal, depending on a lot of sharing to produce benefit for all. The German interest group is planning a meeting on Feb. 19. For details call Cathy Doherty. Other groups now organized are Ohio (call Nancy Warner), Pennsylvania (call Bobby Snow), New York-New England (call Nancy Krohn). If you are interested in getting together a study group for another area, call Nancy Warner, the coordinator for these groups...(signed) Polly Bender, chr.

State Library, Lansing, MI.: For the next three months, on a trial basis only, the Michigan Section will be open ONLY from 1-5p.m. Monday through Friday.

Grand Rapids Public Library: New hours for the Michigan History/Genealogy Dept. became effective last fall. The department will be open Tuesday and Wednesday, 1:00 to 9:00 p.m; Thursday, Friday and Saturday 10:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. This dept. closed Sunday and Monday, but other areas are open.

Northern Oakland Gen. Soc.: This society is willing to publish queries in the Heir-Lines for $1.00 each name from non-members. Their area of interest is: Oakland, Lapeer, Wayne, Macomb, St. Clair, Sanilac and Huron Counties. Address: c/0 Orion Twp. Public Library, 845 S.Lapeer Rd. 48035

THE GILLET CEMETERY

SHARON TOWNSHIP, WASHTENAW COUNTY, MICHIGAN

The Gillet Cemetery is situated on the corner of Sharon Valley and Sharon Hollow Roads in Sharon Township. It is in the northwest corner of Section 33 of the Township and is township owned.

This list is a continuation of the printings found in Volume III, numbers 3 and 4, January and April 1980. The tombstone inscriptions were copied by members of the Genealogical Society of Washtenaw County, Michigan, Inc., on July 22, 1979

A complete copy of this cemetery reading may be found in the GSWC library at Washtenaw Community College.

Names with bracket in front are on the same stone.
